Event Overview

A fun and engaging way to give back to others, our Charity Bike Build experience gives you and your colleagues the opportunity to try your hand at building your very own bicycles from scratch. Using equipment and tools provided for you on the day, each bike you make will be donated to charity after the event has finished.

Working in smaller groups, everyone will get to work their way through a series of games and challenges in order to raise fun money to purchase parts for their bikes. Then, once they're all built, each group will get to go around the room and judge each other group's efforts!

What Happens At Your Event?

On the day of your event, you will arrive at your designated venue where your bicycle-making stations will be set up for you. After receiving a short introduction on how the activity will run, everyone will split up into smaller groups and make their way to their stations.

During the event, each team will get to work their way through a series of bicycle-themed games and challenges in a bid to win fun money for their team. With that fun money, teams will get to purchase parts to build and improve their bicycles.

By the end of the activity, once each bike has been completed, each group will get to make their way around the room for a tongue-in-cheek judging of each other's bike-building skills! After your event has finished, all of your bikes will then be donated to a chosen charity.

What's Included?

- ✔ Professional event manager to host your event
- ✔ Teams are given a deconstructed bike and are tasked to rebuild!
