What happens at your event?

The event will begin with a short briefing on how everything will run delivered by your event co-ordinator. After that, they will split the room up into smaller teams before assigning each of you a section of the contraption to build.

With all of your materials included on the day, you will need to be creative and inventive to make use of the kit you've been provided with, using creative skills to build up your section and making sure it connects well with the preceding and following sections. When time runs out, the big test run will begin! The idea is for the entire chain reaction to work smoothly from start to finish. If you're successful, the run will end with a confetti cannon! Not only is it a great way to motivate your team and give them the chance to unleash their creativity, but you'll also feel a massive sense of achievement by completing this tricky challenge.
