What happens at your event?

Your event manager guides the team through the day, splitting everyone into groups and assigning roles across design, construction and branding. Each stage calls for different skills, encouraging collaboration and giving everyone a hands-on role in bringing the skateboards to life.

Team games run throughout the activity, adding friendly competition and keeping the energy high. Teams compete for medals, creating a fun challenge alongside the main build and giving everyone something to play for.

Once the skateboards are complete, the charitable impact comes to life. Every board is donated to a young person through a children's charity, helping give them opportunities to enjoy sport, creativity and build confidence. After the event, an impact report shows your team exactly what they achieved.

Everything is provided to make the day simple and hassle-free, including all building equipment, aprons and floor coverings. The team also handles the full clean-up, transportation and delivery of the finished skateboards to the charity.

The activity can run at venues across the UK and works in a wide range of spaces, from your office to a hired venue. Your event manager organises the day around your schedule, so all you need to do is choose the location and get ready to build.

Charity Skateboard Building.

Frequently Asked Questions

? What is the Charity Skateboard Building team building activity?

Charity Skateboard Building is a team building activity where your group designs, constructs and brands a skateboard to donate to a children's charity. The event runs for three hours and includes team roles across design, construction and branding, an event manager on the day, team games, medals for the winning team and a post-event impact report. We handle all transportation and delivery of the finished skateboards.

? What's included in Charity Skateboard Building?

Everything is provided on the day: an event manager to host, aprons and floor coverings with a full clean-up service, team games throughout, medals for the winning team, transportation and delivery of the finished skateboards, and a post-event impact report. Your team just needs to show up.

? Which charities receive the skateboards?

The finished skateboards are donated to children's charities that give young people access to sport, creativity and confidence. Delivery is arranged directly by us, and you'll receive a post-event impact report showing how your team's work made a difference.

? When can Charity Skateboard Building run?

The activity runs Monday to Friday, with start times between 9am and 7pm. Let us know your preferred day and time when you enquire and we'll build it into the schedule.

? What roles do teams take on during the build?

Teams split into roles across design, construction and branding, each covering a different part of bringing the skateboard to life. This mix means everyone contributes differently rather than working on the same task, which keeps the day varied and collaborative
