What happens at your event?

When you turn up at the pre-arranged venue, you'll meet the the event host. The host will explain everything, set the mood and split your group up into smaller teams of between 3-5 people (depending on group size).

They'll provide several gingerbread house kits, one to each team. These kits contain gingerbread slabs (different sections of the house), colourful sweets and icing - everything you need to get creating the perfect festive gingerbread house. Each group will also be handed mini gingerbread biscuits to decorate alongside the main house.

The host will run through the building instructions, as well as offering some design inspiration, they'll always be on hand to help. It's now over to you to build and decorate your gingerbread house.

Once all the houses are built, you'll get the chance to show off your unique creations with the other teams, and rate them.

At the end of the activity, you'll have the opportunity to take lots of photos of your houses before having the option to break them up into smaller pieces to take home and share. Afterall, it's all edible and you wouldn't want it to go to waste! You'll be provided packaging to ensure your gingerbread can go home safely.
