What happens at your event?

On the day of your event, you and your teammates will be joined by a facilitator who will explain how the activity will run before splitting you all up into small teams.

Each team will be assigned a bomb defusal box. They must take part in a host of physical and skill-based spy missions to gather clues on how to diffuse it. These tasks will include obstacle courses, building contraptions, driving, shooting and even a round of laser snipers.

At the end of the activity, each team will need to use collaboration skills and work out how to diffuse the bomb using the clues they've picked up from the tasks. To round off the event, the top two teams that manage to diffuse the bomb will be rewarded with 1st and 2nd place medals.
