What happens at your event?

Everyone taking part will download the bespoke game app on their phones. Then, after a short briefing from your remote host explaining how the day will run, everyone will split up into smaller groups of 4-6 people, elect their captains and choose their team names.

During the event, each group will make their way to a series of GPS hotspots that will be dotted around the local area. At each, participants will face a festive challenge or task that they must complete to rack up those all-important points.

With a live scoreboard on the app to keep track of everyone else's progress, the day will end when you are all recalled back to the starting point, where the highest-scoring group will be announced as the overall winner of the day!
