What happens at your event?

At the start of your event, everyone will arrive at your pre-allocated outdoor venue before receiving a short briefing on how the day will run from your activity co-ordinator before they split everyone up into smaller teams.

During the event, each participant in each team will get to take part in a host of challenges that will test everyone's problem-solving and survival skills - From lighting fires to axe throwing and shelter building, this is an activity that everyone can get stuck into and have a memorable experience with.

At the end of the event, everyone who has taken part is guaranteed to feel a massive sense of achievement after working towards a common goal alongside their teammates.
