What happens at your event?

At the start of your event, everyone will receive a short briefing from your facilitators explaining how the day will run. After that, they will split everyone up into smaller teams before starting the activity.

Throughout the day, teams will get to compete in a host of both modern and retro-inspired quiz rounds including buzzer, paper-based and interactive rounds where their skills will be put to the test. At the end of each round, the points scored by each team will be converted to fun money.

At the end of the activity, the four teams with the highest amount of fun money will make their way to the Million Dollar Drop finale to battle it out & determine who the winners are.
