What happens at your event?

On the day, your event will begin with a short briefing delivered by your co-ordinator. They will explain the rules of the game before you split up into your teams and get your bibs on! During the activity, teams will get to play a host of hilarious games whilst wrapped up in their gigantic inflatable bubble suits including classics like British Bulldogs, relay races and lots more.

To make things interesting, there will also be forfeits issued by your activity co-ordinator for the losers, so participants will need to bring out their teamwork and collaboration skills for this event. Not only does this activity encourage lots of friendly competition, but participants also have a chance to have a laugh and do something memorable that they won't forget any time soon.
